CANDIDATE INFORMATION PACK

Head of Learning Support

Closing date 12pm 5th February

Interviews 6th February onwards

INTRODUCTION

At Blundell's it is our desire to educate and nurture young people of consequence, who have the confidence and desire to make a meaningful contribution to society. We are immensely fortunate to be situated in such an idyllic location and it is here, on our 100-acre campus, nestled in the Devon hills, that our pupils are inspired and supported by a team of teachers dedicated to their success and well-being.

It is our intention to help our pupils to become good at learning. Some will become lawyers and doctors and engineers, some will do jobs that have yet to be thought of, but fundamentally, we are developing learners. We believe that if we help pupils to develop the skills and the passion for learning then they will be able to apply that to any aspect of their lives, whether it is in their work, in their leisure or in their relationships. A life well lived is one in which we never stop learning.

At Blundell's we regularly refer to our aspiration of providing pupils with 'Roots and Wings': the roots that ensure our pupils remain grounded, with values that provide a foundation on which to build their lives, and wings of ambition and aspiration, the confidence to do something meaningful with their lives.

Blundell's has been around for over 400 years and we are tremendously proud of our history, but we are just as excited about the innovations and the things we are discovering as we engage with what it means to be relevant today in a world that has seen extraordinary upheaval and change.

This is a place where young people thrive and become ready to contribute to a world desperately in need of men and women who want to make a difference.

We would love to welcome you to our community and experience the warmth and enthusiasm we are so proud of.

Teaching at Blundell's

Blundell's is an exciting and dynamic place to work and we welcome applications from well qualified, enthusiastic candidates. We are a community who strive to develop our practice, and teacher improvement is at the heart of what we do. We have a team of dedicated staff who take a keen interest in making you a better teacher, whether you are just starting your career or are looking for the next step.

The philosophy of "Roots and Wings" flows through everything we do. It is our desire to instil a deep love of learning in pupils which will allow them to thrive; in their working lives, in their leisure and in their relationships. At the heart of supporting pupils to become effective learners is our desire to help pupils to know and understand themselves better, and we equip them with the empathy, compassion and optimism which enables them to make a meaningful difference in a wide range of settings. We embrace the opportunity to challenge ourselves mentally and physically and this is at the core of our communal lives. With our beautiful setting in the heart of Devon, our pupils and staff are inspired to test themselves and to strive to live their lives to the full Blundell's has a reputation for the collegiality of its staff and the positivity and friendliness of its pupils. The outstanding characteristic of Blundellians is their positive 'can-do' attitude. The main finding of our most recent Independent Schools Inspectorate report was that the quality of our pupils' academic and other achievements is "excellent", and the quality of our pupils' personal development is also "excellent". It also noted that "Pupils throughout the school demonstrate strong development of self-confidence and self-awareness, at levels appropriate to or, for many, beyond their age. Pupils showed their justifiable pride in their own and in others' achievements, without appearing in the least arrogant or excessively competitive."

Our staff have a range of diverse backgrounds, many having lived and worked overseas, and bring life experience alongside their teaching skills; we have staff who have been army officers, university admission tutors, engineers, diplomats and lawyers before becoming teachers. We role model life-long learning and we are a "school within a school", with our outstanding teachers always looking to learn and improve. Indeed, we are well known for improving staff as a school, and are a regional training centre for ISTIP; the independent schools training institute.

Our inspirational teachers focus not only on learning, but also on the process of learning, both in and out of the classroom. As a result, we consistently rank among the top schools in the country for value-added data, and regularly achieve national success in academics, sport, music, and drama. We are committed to our ambition to be more thoughtful in understanding our pupils, and more innovative in developing their potential, than any other school in the country.

Devonians are known for their warmth, and this is reflected in the strength of the relationships we see within the school. This is fostered by the Boarding Houses, central to the lives of our pupils. We are grateful for our safe, secure campus, set on the edge of the market town of Tiverton, surrounded by gentle hills and green space.

As a school we believe that people are defined by their values, and the embedding of a strong set of values is what underpins our boarding ethos, and our Boarding House system. Each member of academic staff acts as a Tutor for a small group of tutees within a House. Tutors are an important element of the pastoral system at Blundell's, and perform a key role in enabling us to achieve our core pastoral objective of knowing each pupil individually, and as an individual.

At Blundell's we recognise the talents of each pupil, and believe that each pupil should have the opportunity to develop these talents in whatever field they enjoy. The importance of pupil wellbeing, and of a healthy, balanced lifestyle, is paramount to us at Blundell's. Taking part in music, drama, sport, outdoor pursuits, activities and clubs might lead to a lifelong passion, but may equally simply act as a source of fun and enjoyment with school friends. Blundell's has an enormously rich and vibrant Co-Curricular programme that nurtures those with real talent, alongside those who simply want to try new things.

"Our strength lies in the diversity of options which gives every pupil a chance to shine"

The Blundell's Difference

At the heart of the School's rigorous academic ethos is the key principle that all pupils must engage fully in their own learning and the learning of their peers and that, when they do this, anything is possible. We expect our pupils to work together, to share ideas, to produce group work, and to challenge and support each other. As a result, classrooms are lively places. Blundell's is proudly a non-selective school, but our most academically able pupils achieve as well at Blundell's as at any highly selective academic school in the country. Alongside our Oxbridge places, our pupils consistently win the South-West rounds in academic competitions, progressing in recent years to national finals in Maths, Physics and Chemistry challenges. We feel that our value-added sets us apart in our academic results; on average each of our pupils achieves half a grade more per GCSE than the average for pupils of their ability in Independent Schools in the UK. They then build on this with half a grade again in each of their A-Levels.

In addition to offering a wonderful classroom experience, there is no doubt that Blundell's rich co-curricular offering, greatly enhances the school experience of staff and pupils alike. Staff and pupils at Blundell's interact in a wide variety of differing environments and these interactions help to promote strong, positive relationships which, in turn, create a happy and collaborative work environment. Put simply, staff and pupils at Blundell's get on well together, and enjoy each other's company, whether that be in the classroom, on the sports field, in the Boarding Houses, or indeed anywhere across the school. Pupils want to learn, and to improve, and the staff enjoy supporting them in their endeavours. This leads to a sense of community, and of togetherness, which means that the teaching experience is happy, positive and enjoyable.

The academic staff body at Blundell's, known as the Common Room, is widely known for its friendly, welcoming nature, and many current staff will cite this collegiality as one of the most pleasurable aspects of life at Blundell's. The Common Room is a collaborative, supportive environment, and one in which new staff are warmly welcomed and integrated. In addition, we are lucky to have a team of friendly, talented support staff who ensure that the school's provision is first-class, from the quality of the food to the preparation of our grounds and gardens, and everything in between. Members of Common Room spend time together over coffee at break, or while enjoying our extraordinary food in Dining Hall, and the warmth of relationships between colleagues is something of which the school is very proud, and keen to retain. There is a popular staff bar, with a range of alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, and we are well-known for the high quality of our welcome when we host staff and sports coaches from other schools, especially on Saturday afternoons for sports fixtures. This friendliness and warmth is a source of great pride, and something we are confident all staff will feel from their very first visit.

When asked to sum up the best thing about working at Blundell's, current staff say:

"I am allowed to be myself and given the freedom and support to structure my department for the best outcomes of students. I gain enormous personal pleasure working alongside the students and building such strong and lasting relationships with them. I love making a difference every day, it keeps me young, makes me laugh, and keeps me in touch with what is really important."

"The community spirit across the whole school, staff, pupils, parents. Having been able to develop my own ideas, with support and encouragement from others, to create a job I love."

"The pupils that we produce and how they leave the school and move into the world as adults. Blundellians are always happy to chat to you and catch up and I remain proud of the young people who leave the school. I also love the support and camaraderie amongst the common room as a whole"

"The passion and commitment of the staff and high level of knowledge and expertise in my department. Collaborative nature of my department and frequent opportunities for personal development via mentoring from my HoD and colleagues."

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (TEACHING POSTS)

Job Title: Head of Learning Support

Department: Learning Support

Report to: Deputy Head, Academic

Date: January 2024

ROLE: HEAD OF LEARNING SUPPORT FOR SEPTEMBER 2024

We require an inspirational teacher of Learning Support with outstanding leadership skills to run this thriving department. The successful candidate will be well-qualified and energetic with excellent communication and interpersonal skills, excited to build on the strengths of the department to develop new and innovative initiatives.

Our model of Learning Support at Blundell's relies on identifying each pupil's individual needs, and then providing one-on-one tailored support as they progress through the school. The department is hugely talented and experienced, and members of the department hold a range of qualifications that allow them to support pupils with dyslexia, ADHD, dyscalculia and more. It is therefore likely that the successful candidate will have Level 7 in Psychometric testing.

The successful candidate will oversee the outstanding delivery of Learning Support at Blundell's Senior School and will work with the Learning Support department at our adjacent Blundell's Prep School to ensure close alignment of values and practice.

The post will suit either an existing Head of Department or an ambitious senior school teacher looking to develop her/his career in this beautiful part of the country. A willingness to contribute to the extra-curricular life of this busy boarding school is expected.

THE LEARNING SUPPORT DEPARTMENT

There are six members of the Learning Support department, two full time and four part time. Five of the department have British Dyslexia Association qualifications. We also have two maths specialist with dyscalculia qualifications.

The department is housed in its own building close to the centre of the main school and is easily accessible to students. We work in close partnership with our colleagues at Blundell's Prep, with the Head of Learning Support undertaking regular visits to meet pupils who are likely to transfer to the senior school, as well as have regular meetings with the prep school SENCo.

The department works with between 40 -50 pupils at any one time, depending on need. Pupils can refer themselves or they can be raised as a concern by teaching or pastoral staff or their parents. We offer a range of support to our students, including individual and small group work, dyslexia intervention, executive functioning coaching, literacy, maths and science support as well as study skills. Many students have more than one lesson allocated to LS each week, enabling us to develop a consistent approach in collaboration with our subject teaching colleagues.

The department is highly valued by the Common Room and Learning Support teachers are often sought out for advice by colleagues. We work particularly closely with the Exams Officer to assess and deliver exam Access Arrangements for both internal and external exams.
